SHARPER
TRAINING

FREE GUIDE FOR EXECUTIVES WHO TRAVEL

The Travel-Proof Training Guide

How to stay strong, sharp and capable on the road. Hotel rooms, long-haul flights, client dinners. No gym needed.

By Greg Sharpe. 20+ years leading global brand and events teams. 51, and still training.

START HERE

You don't need an hour. You need 20 minutes and a plan.

For 20 years my life was flights, load-ins, late dinners and a phone that never stopped. Training was always "when things calm down". They never did.

What I learned the hard way: the men who stay fit while travelling aren't the ones with more time. They're the ones who decided in advance what they'll do, wherever they wake up. That's what this guide gives you.

The 20-Minute Rule

Three 20-minute strength sessions a week, anywhere. That's the minimum that keeps you strong. Everything else is a bonus.

The Sharper 4

Movement. Strength and mobility that keep you capable for decades: lifting the bags, getting off the floor, keeping up with the kids.

Nutrition. Simple rules that survive airports, hotel breakfasts and client dinners. Not a diet.

Mindfulness. A few minutes a day to switch off the noise, sleep better and think clearly.

Consistency. Small things done most days beat big plans you can't keep on the road.

> Before you start: if you have an injury, a heart or blood-pressure condition, or haven't trained in a long time, check with your GP first. Stop any exercise that causes sharp pain.

NO KIT · 20 MINUTES

The Hotel Room Session

All you need is the floor, a bed or chair, and a towel. Do it before breakfast, before the first meeting, or before you hit the minibar.

Warm-up · 3 minutes

Marching on the spot (1 min), arm circles both ways (30 sec), 10 slow bodyweight squats, 5 cat-cows on hands and knees.

Main circuit · 3 rounds, 60 sec rest between rounds

MOVE	REPS	MAKE IT EASIER · HARDER
1. Squat	12	Sit to the bed and stand · Pause 2 sec at the bottom
2. Push-up	8–12	Hands on the bed or desk · Feet on the bed
3. Reverse lunge	8 each leg	Hold the wall · Slow 3-sec lowering
4. Glute bridge	15	Both feet · One leg, 8 each side
5. Prone Y-T raise	8 of each	Lying face down, lift arms in a Y then a T. Great for desk shoulders
6. Plank	30 sec	Knees down · Lift one foot for 5 sec each side

Cool-down · 3 minutes

Kneeling hip-flexor stretch (30 sec each side), doorway chest stretch (30 sec), then lie on your back for 5 slow breaths: in for 4, out for 6.

> Short on time? Do one round. Ten minutes still counts. Showing up is the win.

WHEN THE HOTEL GYM IS A TREADMILL AND TWO DUMBBELLS

The Hotel Gym Session

Pick a pair of dumbbells you could lift about 12 times with good form. Work through as pairs, resting 60 seconds after each pair.

PAIR	MOVES	SETS × REPS
A	Goblet squat · Dumbbell row (one arm, hand on the bench)	3 × 10
B	Romanian deadlift · Floor or bench press	3 × 10
C	Split squat · Shoulder press	2 × 8 each side
Finish	Farmer's carry, walk tall for 30–40 metres	3 lengths

Then 5–10 minutes on the treadmill at a brisk walk with a slight incline. It loosens the legs after a day of sitting.

JUST LANDED

The 10-Minute Arrival Reset

Landed at 6am, meeting at 9? Do this before you shower.

1. Get daylight. 5 minutes walking outside if you can. It's the simplest way to tell your body what time it is.
2. Deep squat hold. 3 × 20 seconds, holding a door frame if needed.
3. 90/90 hip switches. 10 slow switches. Undoes the plane seat.
4. Thoracic rotations. On your side, open the top arm like a book, 8 each side.
5. Breathe. 2 minutes: in for 4, out for 6.

FOOD, SLEEP AND TIME ZONES

The First 24 Hours After a Long-Haul

1. Live on local time from the moment you land. Eat, sleep and get light by the new clock, not your body clock.
2. Move before you crash. A 20-minute walk or the arrival reset beats a long afternoon nap. If you must nap, keep it under 20 minutes.
3. Caffeine before midday only. Then switch to water. Aim for a big glass every couple of hours.

Client Dinners: 4 Rules

Enjoy the dinner and still feel good at 7am.

1. Protein first. Order the steak, fish or chicken and build the plate around it. You'll eat less of everything else without trying.

2. Pick two of three. Bread, dessert, a second drink. Choose two, skip one. Nobody notices.

3. One drink, one water. Alternate glasses. It slows the evening down and saves tomorrow.

4. Walk it off. Ten minutes' walk back to the hotel. It helps digestion and sleep.

> Hotel breakfast: eggs, Greek yoghurt, fruit, porridge. Skip the pastry basket most days. Protein in the morning keeps you steady until lunch.

PUT IT TOGETHER

Your Travel-Proof Week

The minimum that keeps you strong when you're away. Tick it off as you go.

WHAT	HOW OFTEN	WHERE
20-minute strength session	3 times a week	Hotel room, hotel gym or home
Walk	Every day, 20–30 min	Between meetings, after dinner, from the station
Mobility reset	After every flight	Hotel room floor
Breathing	2 minutes a day	Before sleep or before a big meeting
Sleep	Same wake-up time	Phone out of reach, room cool and dark

Want this built around your diary?

I coach busy executives in the UK and the US through the Sharper Training app. Your programme travels with you, and we check in on your time zone, not mine.

Book a free 20-minute Travel-Proof Strategy Call:
calendly.com/gregorysharpe15/travel-proof-strategy-call-20-mins

Or message me on LinkedIn or Instagram with the word FUTURE

Greg Sharpe · Sharper Training · @sharper_training